NOVEMBER/DECEMBER 2021

We thank all our clubs and volunteers for your time and efforts this year. As we all prepare for winter, we wish everyone a wonderful holiday season. Enjoy your time with family and friends. As this year comes to a close, we look forward to the new year, new growth, and new opportunities.

Clubs are reminded to keep your contact information (officers' and club representative's names and numbers) updated with us. The monthly board meeting reminder is sent to all Club Presidents and Club Representatives. If you are not receiving the reminders (and Zoom invites), please email ShepardCenter@gmail.com.

Please also remember that all questions concerning reservations and/or rental charges for the Shepard Center should be directed to the Friends of East Sacramento at FriendsofEastSac@aol.com.

Again, wishing you and yours all the best for the holiday season.

FALL SALE

Fall Sale Committee

Thank you to everyone who participated and volunteered at the Fall Sale. We received good feedback from our clubs and vendors. Many said it was well-organized, they liked the nice weather, and they're glad to be out again. Attendance was lighter than usual (maybe due to COVID and not enough advertising). We appreciate the input. Thanks again. Here are a few pictures of the Fall Sale.

Ways and Means Committee

Thanks to all of you who supported the T-shirt fundraiser. Many people bought T-shirts at the Fall Sale and made generous donations. All the short-sleeved green shirts are gone. Plenty of wonderfully soft, long-sleeved T-shirts are available which make perfect Christmas gifts. Please contact me if you'd like to get one (and I'll check for that size). A special thanks to Maryanne Kern for helping man the booth.

The Friends of the Sacramento Garden and Arts Center has now become a fundraising committee under the Center's Board, called the "Ways and Means Committee." We have lost a few members: Ed Schroeder has retired and is now cruising around the world; Noelle Anderson has become the president for Perennial Plants. So, we are looking to fill these positions. We will not have many meetings, but when we do, they will probably be just before the Center's Board meetings. Please contact me if you have any interest

Warmly,
MJ Kelly, Chairman
Ways and Means Committee

Bringing a world-class botanical garden to our city

Are you one of those people who enjoys visiting botanical gardens whenever you travel? Have you ever wondered why Sacramento doesn't have a botanical garden? Drs. Bruce Ritter and Linda Ching are the co-founders of the Sacramento Botanical Garden (SacBo), whose goal is to bring a world-class botanical garden to the capital city of California. Please go to their website (www.SacBo.org) for more information.

Please make a donation or donate the cost of a latte by joining the Latte Club (sign up to donate just $5 a month) to help with administrative costs to research and promote this project.

Your support is needed and greatly appreciated.

Special Presentation

Cymbidium Society is having a special presentation on December 3, 2021, by George Hatfield, premier grower and hybridizer. The meeting will be in person and by Zoom.

For more information, check the Facebook page of the Sacramento Cymbidium Society, or call Ann Carberry at 916-502-3258.

ART TO WEAR & MORE 2021

Silent Auction - Fashion Show

Exhibitors - Live Music

Saturday, November 13, 2021

10am—4pm

Sacramento Center for the Textile Arts presents the 2021 Art to Wear & More show and sale. Please join us to view and purchase unique handcrafted works by our very talented local artists. Works will include jewelry, handbags, needle arts, clothing, book arts and gift items. The sale is from 10am to 4pm. The artist fashion show will begin at 10am. Light refreshments will be available, and live music will be featured on the patio after the fashion show. Exhibitor hall will open at 11am. This is a great way to start (or maybe finish) your holiday shopping.
