THE YARN BOMBING IS COMPLETED!!!

Again, this year the SCTA group yarn bombed the Shepard Garden and Art Center (on the east side only). Even with the loss of a few trees during winter storms, we have displayed our creative artwork around the trees and poles. We know that some of it will find new homes during the display. But we also know that as creative artists, when you share with the public some will desire it.

Our theme for this year is "FACES". Our Surface Design Study Group created some whimsical masks to share which are displayed in front of the building on the street side. Thanks to Yvonne Warren and her group!

The display will remain until July 7th. We hope you will visit the area. Enjoy!
